

Scotland Looks North

By working with their Nordic counterparts, our entrepreneurs and institutions have secured financial support for a wide variety of projects, ranging from innovative recycling solutions to the delivery of psychiatry services in remote areas.

Thanks to Horizon 2020, the European funding programme for research and innovation, EU membership has helped Scotland enhance its research and higher education ties with Arctic countries. Furthermore, the Erasmus+ programme has encouraged the exchange of students and staff, helping us strengthen our bilateral relationships with Arctic academic institutions.

Since the early 1990s, the LEADER programme has provided vital financial support for community-led development in Scottish rural areas, building social and economic capital while opening new avenues for Scottish-Arctic partnerships.

These are just a few examples of the many collaborations which have taken place through EU funding. The UK's exit from the EU poses a serious risk to Scotland's domestic and international
